MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

From the Congo to the world, preparing for 2040.

Bohneur Tsona

President of Taleli Energy SASU

The Democratic Republic of Congo is central to questions that will shape the future of Africa and the world: energy, transition minerals, water and the preservation of major ecosystems. This position calls for cooperation that addresses the country's needs and creates lasting value for its people.

Looking towards 2040, our ambition is to connect wider access to energy, better-prepared industry, responsible resource management and a generation equipped to lead change. These priorities should guide the projects and partnerships we seek to encourage.

Vision 2040 aims to provide a framework for this work with businesses, institutions, researchers, finance partners and young people from the DRC, Africa and the wider world. This first edition should help clarify needs, examine solutions and organize next steps.

I invite everyone to contribute to this working agenda: bring expertise, present a solution, prepare a project or share a skill. Together, let us lay the foundations for cooperation that serves the Congo and engages with the world.

Vision 2040 is a Taleli Energy initiative. The 2040 horizon expresses a long-term working ambition.

AN AMBITION ROOTED IN NEEDS

A Congolese horizon. An international outlook.

The DRC's energy and environmental choices matter to its development, African cooperation and global value chains. Vision 2040 proposes to examine these connections, starting with the country's needs.
